

Burns Comes to Blair!

Last night in Blair Atholl was an experience never to be forgotten especially for our overseas scouts as they had the opportunity to try one of Scotland's traditional dishes - A Burns Supper!

Clackmannan Scouts prepare their Burns Supper.

Some comments that were gathered today from leaders and scouts about the Burn's Supper:

The leaders in Morrison sub camp would like to thank the four boys who helped in addressing the haggis.

Auntie Mo had 2 helpings all to herself! (Allegedly! - Ed.)

From Scottish Scouts: far too much, brilliant, excellent, too filling, deeeeeelicious, tastes like meatloaf, good night. From overseas scouts: leche, schon, wunderbar, schmak leche, haggis was good, I liked it!, I threw up! I could not eat it after some scottish scouts told me what it was!

Auntie Mo addresses the haggis, supervised by Uncle Dougie. (The Post Office would probably lose it)

Hello to all our friends world-wide who are taking part in our Jamborette in their own way by logging onto our website. You are all very welcome to the Scottish International Patrol Jamborette 2002. Pass on the link to as many scouting friends as you can so they can join in the fun at www.jamborette.org.uk

It will make you sick...

....to know that the weather in Las Vegas is sunny and hot - only 40 C or for us older people that's 109 F. Send us some sunshine.

Thanks to Julie Rich BA Staff 2000 for emailing us the weather and her best wishes.

Thank you to all staff and scouts past and present for the best wishes you have sent us - wish you were here!

Intergalactic Interview by Agent Bain, CAMP MURRAY

It has been two painstaking days since our friends arrived on scene. I have been sent on a mission to interview 3 foreign sources and squeeze as much information from them as possible. Subcamp MURRAY has been attacked by roughly five unidentified patrols. I have been chosen to defend the earth from the Germanoids by finding out as much unknown information about them as possible. 3...2...1... Go!

Interview Start:

1. What would you classify as the most satisfying meal you have tasted in your home planet?

(F) "Felixeron: I eat Cow Legs with potatoes and Beer."

(T) "Thomason: I like meat with sauerkraut and a pig."

(P) "Phillipson: I eat big juicy sausages with potatoes and carrots."

2. "Yum!" What is your favourite sport and is it popular on your planet?

(F) "My favourite sport is judo but it is not very popular."

(T) "Football it is played a lot on my planet."

(P) "Table tennis, it is quite popular."

3. What are your favourite bands or singers?

(F) "System of a down and Wiso."

(T) "Rancid and Shandon. They are good."

(P) "Blink 182, KKS and System of a down."

4. What animals inhabit your planet?

ALL: "Dogs, cats, rabbits and Hamsters."

5. Last of all are you enjoying yourself here at Blair?

ALL: "yes VERY MUCH"

That went perfectly. Now the planet is safe!

WHAT'S HOT AND WHAT'S NOT AT THE CAMPFIRE

There has been a whole range of clothes that have been worn at all of the campfires that have already taken place.

Here are some of the clothes that we think are a must for Blair Atholl 2002.

On your head best thing to wear is the funny hat with bright colours and bells to make you stand out in the crowd!!

The next thing you need are cool ski goggles to keep the campfire smoke out of your eyes!!

You also need a brightly coloured Hawaiian shirt to make us hope for the sun!!

A kilt (for men nothing to be worn underneath) to let the air get around. And if you aren't Scottish you can always borrow one!!

And to complete the outfit you need a pair of Jesus sandals to let someone

The sun shines, the rain falls,
The wind blows - weather constantly changing.

Dear Auntie Freeze

Q-Although I have a girlfriend I am being hounded by other girls. What can I do?

William Crouch, MacDonald Subcamp

A- Tell them to take a ticket and wait in line.

Q-Every time I go to the Kross, they are out of Im-Bru. How can I get my hands on a bottle? Adam, USA Morrison Subcamp

A-You can make your own by dipping your dirty socks in water.

Q-All the nice girls don't speak English. Should we speak the language of love or what? Clueless Jake and Jamie B

A-The language of love is universal, maybe you are the problem

Q-Can I meet your husband, or are you not married? Is he all frozen up? Bet he has an icy personality.

Noel from Austria

A-Why would someone as beautiful as me want to get married?

Shrek Revue

Shrek is a great film that is full of funny moments but with a fairy tale story line, the ogre rescues the princess from a castle and falls in love with her and they get married in the end. There are lots of funny moments but by far the funniest part is the song about Duluck. Mike Myers and Eddie Murphy play their characters to their full potential. All together I think this is one of the best animated films in a long time. I give this film a 9.1 out of 10.

Interview with Murray Aunt and Uncles

How does Blair 2002 compare with the other Blair camps that you have attended?

Aunt Mo - "It's just as enjoyable and I have been doing this for ten years now! Hopefully the weather will pick up though!"

Liam - "Oh that's a toughie!! It's more relaxed and the weather is certainly nicer than '98 but not as good as 2000."

Duncan - "It's very different because this is first time I have been a leader - I am enjoying bossing people about!"

Who is your favourite patrol and why?

Aunt Mo - "I have no favourites but I like seeing the arrival of the overseas guests and all the patrols coming together and working well."

Liam - "Well with my hat on my Leith girls (Edinburgh) are the best!"

Duncan - "Definitely not Edinburgh!"

How does it feel to be surrounded by males all the time?

Aunt Mo - I am used to it having been in the Royal Marines - who were very nice!!" (As what - the mascot?? (Ed.))

So, it's not just us Edinburgh girls that have been "bonding" we have noticed some "bonding" between you and Uncle Dougie!

"Aunt Mo "We have bonded well from day one, in the nicest possible way (just in case his wife is reading it!)"
